Who We Are

Melrose PMC is a pioneering private media cloud provider revolutionizing how media companies manage their digital infrastructure. As the specialized media cloud division of Melrose Inc., we blend enterprise-grade security with unparalleled workflow flexibility - delivering transformative media solutions from our state-of-the-art Los Angeles data center.

Our Origin & Vision

Born from innovation during the pandemic, Melrose PMC was created to address the long-standing compromise between owned infrastructure and cloud services. Our hybrid approach empowers clients to integrate their existing equipment with our on-demand cloud technology, enabling customized media workflows that scale with evolving needs.

Our Philosophy

We take a “requirements first, technology second” approach to every PMC project. Our consultants and engineers work backwards from your business objectives to craft solutions that are efficient, scalable, and cost-effective. With over 100 years of combined media industry experience, our team excels in workflow optimization, cloud architecture, and media technology integration.

Let us demonstrate how MelrosePMC can empower your media workflows - on your terms.
